SUPPORTING AND PROTECTING THE RUGBY FAMILY

RUGBY UNION IS ONE BIG FAMILY

IF A MEMBER OF YOUR OWN FAMILY WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED, YOU WOULD RALLY ROUND TO HELP.

Says Bill Beaumont, captain
of the IPF Ambassadors XV

*I'm asking every member of the rugby family to work together as a team.
With your support it's no
exaggeration to say that we can make a huge difference.*

The RFU Injured Players Foundation
needs your help to:

- Raise £1million to provide more support for our injured players
- Raise £500,000 for injury prevention research & grassroots first aid and training

INTRODUCING

DAVID TWEMLOW

Let us introduce you to Sandbach RFC player, David Twemlow, his wife, Sarah and daughter Heather. After David's serious injury the IPF, recognising that their home was totally unsuitable for David to return to from hospital, made a £200,000 grant for a new home where David could enjoy as normal a life as possible.

Says Sarah

*I really don't believe that we would have got through without the IPF. We are back together as a family in a new bungalow adapted for David to get around in his wheelchair
all funded by the IPF. All
we can say, as a family,
is a big thank you!"*

£1million, raised over four years, would mean more support for players who are permanently disabled, including: vehicle adaptations, house conversions, communication aids, retraining courses, adapted sports equipment and respite opportunities.

£500,000, raised over four years, would mean we could help to make the game safer through more injury prevention research and funding for grassroots first aid training and equipment.
